

Preliminary Announcement

12th & 13th July, 2012

The Royal (Dick) School of Veterinary Studies, The University of Edinburgh

Symposium format: keynote presentations, interactive posters and workshops.

The event is open to a wide range of delegates including veterinary educationalists, practitioners, researchers and students and provides a friendly atmosphere in which to share innovation, ideas and best practice in veterinary education.

The symposium is low cost and good value accommodation will be available in Pollock Halls.

